Maya Dobler holds a Bachelor's degree in Anthropology and Political Science with a minor in French & Francophone Studies from Fordham University. While at Fordham, she worked in several capacities with the University's Center for Community Engaged Learning and maintains a passion for social justice and community engagement.